Report of Board of Education.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF HOOKSETT, N. H.

Your Board of Education wish to submit the following report :

There have been nine schools in session during the year, with scarcely any changes in teachers, for such is by all means for the best interests of the schools. It has seemed best to your Board, economically and practically, to unite the River Road School with No. 7, which has been attended with more or less success. One of the practical reasons is, that a large number of scholars, up to a certain extent, is better for the individual pupil, because he has more competition with his class-mates, which acts as a stimulus to him.

Your Board have found necessary many needed additions to books and supplies this year, which may seem large when the bills are footed up; but nothing has been purchased which was not deemed necessary for the advancement and well-being of the schools you have placed in their charge.

In order for a carpenter or mechanic to perform a creditable piece of work, it is absolutely essential that he have good tools to work with, otherwise he is handicapped and his neighbor will surpass him in the excellence of the product of his industry. It is the same with schools, if you hold the teachers responsible for results, they must have materials with which to work to the best advantage.

Your Board have discouraged the idea of the teachers buying many needed supplies, such as paper and ink, for their pupils, instead of asking the Board to furnish them. Such supplies being in the province of your Board and moreover, a duty incumbent upon it.

Your Board, believing it for the best interest of your schools, have urged the teachers to avail themselves of the law of the State to take regular visiting days, generally once each term, in this manner obtaining many valuable new ideas, many of which they have put into operation, adapted by their own personalities to the conditions in which they have severally found themselves.

They have also availed themselves of the opportunities offered by the State Department of Education to attend the institutes, from which they have gathered inspiration and a quickening in their work.

The teachers have been the same, with two exceptions, namely: in the Head district Miss Hobbs left at the end of the spring term and in the Neal district the spring term was taught by Mr. Shea, the fall by Mr. W. McLaughlin and the winter by Miss Webster, who had taught there previously with marked success. In Miss Hobbs you have lost a valuable teacher, of strong personality, with marked ability in moulding and training young people for life's work.

All of the teachers have coöperated heartily with your Board, working for the best interests of your children. Your Board begs leave to state, that at the present time you have at your service the best corps of teachers for several years.

It is eminently fitting, that you should know what additions have been made to the equipment of your schools and in their course of study.

In reading, the established text books are the series of Baldwin's Readers, a series which has few superiors, but as no one person possesses all the virtues, so no set of readers has all of the best qualities, and since reading is the foundation of all scholastic attainments, it has seemed best to introduce some supplementary reading, of which the following is the plan : In the classes using the First and Second Readers, have been placed the Stepping Stones to Literature, by Sarah L. Arnold, also in some of the second reader classes William's Choice Literature for Primary Classes ; in the Third, Fourth Fifth have been placed Eggleston's Beginner's History and William's Choice Literature for the Intermediate Grade. This is to add interest to the reading and increase the ability of the pupil to gather ideas from the printed page and not allow him opportunity to learn the selections in his reader by heart.

The Arithmetic remains the same Greenleaf's, also the Metcalf's Grammar, and Harrington's Speller. The Fiske's History has been supplemented with Scudder, McMaster, Barnes and Montgomery, one copy of each being on the teacher's desk for reference in class work. Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the study of history for the boy soon to become a citizen and assume the responsibilities now administered by the men. Particularly the history of the United States, a knowledge of the past whereby to enable him to look into, and judge of the future. Frye's Geography remains the same and it is one of the best books of the day, but needs most careful work on part of teacher and pupil in order to obtain results.

There are many duties the parent owes to his child during his school life: first, he should insist promptness at school, constant attendance, and take interest in the work of the school, and in the work of his own child at school. The teacher prefers to have the parent visit school than not, and in that way alone can the parent satisfy himself of the work of his own child.

Drawing has been part of our school course for about three years; but as no such a requirement was demanded of the teacher in her fitness to teach, many had never taught the subject, so were much at sea.

Your Board acting upon such a condition of affairs, thought it advisable to obtain the services of Prof. J. Warren Thyng, supervisor of drawing in the Manchester public schools, to outline the work from the beginning and direct the teachers. He has been heartily seconded in his efforts by the teachers, who have been enthusiastic and the children in their turn have responded with like enthusiasm.

The teaching of drawing is not that the children may become artists, but they may describe with their pencils what they see as accurately as in writing or speaking. It trains the mind to judge of the proportion that one object bears to another, along correct ways of thinking, it trains the hand, the eye and the judgement.

Your Board realizes that in many things it has departed from the beaten paths of precedents established for a long time in our town, but it has all been done with an eye single to the advancement of the pupil to make him a more practical and helpful member of society.

Stop and consider the importance of the work of the teacher! Training young citizens for the future, moulding character, ways of thinking, ways of doing, helping to form habits for life. There is no work in our community more delicate, more complex and more important, or calls for talent of a higher order than that of a teacher in our schools. An enthusiastic, conscientious teacher cannot be overpaid.

There are two problems that confront us at this time. First, increased accommodations for the pupils of the village and the formation of a Supervisory District.

There is absolute need of the increase of school accommodation for the children in the village. At present we have three rooms, with about 55, 65 and 35 pupils respectively. The good average teacher should not be asked to have over forty pupils for obtaining the best results.

There are several ways of solving the problem before us. First, build two or one cheap wooden buildings to supply two rooms, leaving the brick school as it is, which method would be a minimum of cost and would yield a minimum of results; because it is more practical that all children be under one roof and one principal. If the schools are scattered, there will be two teachers in the primary doing part of the same work, the result will be like obsolete or worn machinery having a large percentage of lost motion.

Another plan would be to build on to our present building enough space for two rooms and have the addition of proper height, about four feet above present structure, then in time build over the old part to correspond with the new. Such a plan would be workable, but to many the appearance of such a building would be against it.

A third plan would be to raise the present building four feet, then build on sufficient addition, in this way have the building symmetrical and both parts alike. This would be more expensive than either of the others.

A fourth plan would be to sell, if possible, the present building, find a lot on higher ground and build entirely new. It is a matter of town pride and effecting the reputation of our town. It will be imperative that another room be opened and another teacher employed for the spring term in the village.

Last year the District voted to authorize the Board to unite with other districts to form a Supervisory District and hire a Superintendant; but it was found impracticable to form such a district, because the towns voting the same were so distant, except Pembroke and the two had not sufficient schools to form such a district.

The following is a list of teachers for the year and their districts:

No. 1. Spring term taught by Ellen E. Hobbs, the fall and winter terms by Maude L. Parker.

No. 2. Winnie E. Davis the entire year.

No. 3. Mabel S. Cate, entire year.

No. 4. Barbara Gulliver, entire year.

No. 5. Spring term taught by M.F. Shea, fall term by W. J. McLaughlin, Jr., and winter term by Minnie L. Webster.

No. 6. Grammar, Edna F. Watson, primary Jennie B. Abbott, the entire year.

No. 7. Mary Lantry, entire year.

No. 9. Annie Herbert, entire year.

The attendance has been bad during the winter term, on account of enforcing the vaccination law. The State Board of Health required it to be enforced, so that your Board had no choice in the matter. Hereafter no new scholars should be admitted without having been vaccinated and presenting their certificate therefor. In the cities no child is admitted without his certificate, consequently the Boards meet with no such condition your Board had during this year.

Thanking the people of the District for coöperation in the past, this report is respectfully submitted,

JOHN GAULT,
EUGENE S. HEAD,
ALBERT F. DAVIS,

Total for year end'g March 1, 1901, 2,687 books.

The Library has been open every week during the past year. The circulation of books has been larger than any previous year in its history. The books added to the Library, during the past year, have been recommended by trained librarians, therefore, we are confident that we have as good a selection of books as can be found in any library. A new library building is very much needed. We are already crowded. A new room, large enough to contain all of the books and a few seats, would be appreciated by the trustees, librarian and patrons.

Thanking the patrons for their kindness in the past, we hope they will enjoy our new books and do all in their power to convince the residents of Hooksett that a neat inexpensive library building would be greatly appreciated by all, and an honor to the town.
